

Unique
100%

Plagiarized
0%

Word: 132

Characters: 883

Content Checked for Plagiarism

India's textiles represent a vast and rich cultural heritage. Indian Textiles are not just textiles but are the representation of Country's culture, varied geography and history. From the handlooms of Tamil Nadu to block-printed fabrics of Rajasthan and composite silks of Varanasi, every region has its own exclusive fabric. From the handlooms of Tamil Nadu to block-printed fabrics of Rajasthan and composite silks of Varanasi, every region has its own exclusive fabric. In India, fabric has played a vital role in both daily life and the celebrations of holidays, rituals and ceremonies. They carry out historical heritage, cultural record and religious symbols. Despite their value, traditional textiles are being disappeared due to globalization, modernization and the rise of fast fashion. However, many artisans and designers putting endless efforts to preserve the culture.

Matched Source